

Phil Reynolds

Phil Reynolds is an energetic, motivational speaker for groups of all sizes. The enthusiasm and humor he brings to every presentation is complemented by his sincere, positive attitude and commitment to meeting the specific needs of each audience.

As a Consulting Partner with The Ken Blanchard Companies®, Phil offers expertise in leadership, teamwork, personal development, DiSC® Behavior Model, the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®), and individual excellence.

Phil has trained over thousands of participants in various Blanchard® seminars and has worked closely with many Fortune 500 companies. He has a unique talent for implementing concepts and ideas into practical workplace solutions.

Phil joined The Ken Blanchard Companies in 1998 as a Consulting Partner. His prior experience included over 15 years of leadership responsibilities, holding key management and sales positions. He holds a bachelor of arts degree in education from East Central University and a master's of theology from Southwestern Theological Seminary. Phil also has completed numerous professional development courses.
