Kenbot™ for SLII®

Advice and help when you need it—at your fingertips

Leaders are so busy that it can be difficult to recall training and apply new skills in the moments that matter. The frenetic pace of business, information overload, and shifting priorities are just a few of the obstacles they face when they try to use what they've learned on the job.

That's why we created Kenbot™ for SLII®—a chatbot that provides just-in-time support to help leaders apply new skills, access essential tools, and grab resources at work, in the flow of work and when they are on the go.

Kenbot for SLII pushes and pulls critical content at pivotal moments. No matter where your leaders are—the corporate office, home office, factory, warehouse, or anywhere else—they're never more than a command away from actionable insight. This kind of on-demand support helps them become comfortable and confident in using SLII.

Kenbot for SLII teaches through conversations personalized for learners, and then automatically measures how well they understand the material. Leaders who are struggling receive additional support. Whatever the situation, everyone receives the right information at the right time.

Let Kenbot help your leaders lead.
Then watch how they create employee engagement, transform your workplace, and produce a stellar ROI.

WHO SHOULD USE KENBOT FOR SLII?

Any leader who has learned the SLII leadership model and wants quick access to SLII resources to help them apply them in the flow of work.

Kenbot for SLII extends and reinforces SLII's key content by:

- Providing answers to FAQ and links to relevant videos, tools, etc.
- Creating opportunities for sharing ideas and insights with other users
- Sending reminders on key tasks like One on One conversations
- Offering live support for critical issues and questions

Kenbot for SLII uses AI to run on any mobile device that supports SMS/text message, Microsoft Teams, Slack, Facebook Messenger, Salesforce, WeChat, and other platforms.

If a solution doesn't provide ongoing performance support in a way that leaders will use it, the return on investment is diminished—and that's unacceptable today. Kenbot delivers on this mandate, giving your leaders the support they need to succeed.
