Jenni Armbrust

Jenni Armbrust, a Consulting Associate for Blanchard®, is a highly adaptive and flexible adult learning expert who is able to link course information to relevant business issues. She has a passionate approach to course concepts that creates an interactive and relaxed learning environment where participants feel free to become engaged and involved learners.

Managers and employees at every level of an organization find it easy to successfully apply and sustain the strategies and skills Jenni teaches, due to her extensive skills in group dynamics and adult learning techniques. Her training and facilitation experience includes industries such as telecommunications, finance, health care, entertainment, broadcast news, and government. Jenni's specific areas of expertise include leadership strategies and competencies, strategic thinking skills, team effectiveness, coaching processes, business meeting and writing acumen, performance management, and customer service standards and processes.

Jenni has experience as an independent trainer, working with executives, managers, and teams to enhance their leadership capacity. She has partnered with some of the world's most highly regarded training and consulting firms to provide training workshops, facilitation of meetings, consulting services, and course development or revision to meet the client's specific needs. Jenni's previous professional experience includes a role as senior consultant at the BellSouth Leadership Institute.

Jenni holds a Bachelor of Science degree in journalism from the University of Florida. In addition, she is certified to administer the Triaxia DISC Profile System.

Jenni is the wife of a church staff member and is actively involved in ministries nationally and internationally.
